The Democrats in Congress are as quie as if they were holding the post-mortem of their party.

The country moves that Congress take a recess until next December. Will any his administration. He made a gain of Congressman second the motion?

Some of the Democratic statesmen who don't want New York to furnish a Demo cratic candidate next year, refer to Tilden as being "dead as a herring." It is noticeable, however, that certain Democratic statesmen are very much worried by Tilden if he is dead.

A singular case is reported as happening in South Norwalk, Connecticut, in which two brothers so closely resembled each other, that when one of them was arrested for fast driving, both appeared before the Justice, saying they were willing to pay the fine if it could be proved which one did the driving. The resemblance was so perfect that even their neighbors could not distinguish one from the other, and the Justice was compelled to dismiss the case.

There are strange scenes being enacted in Talmage's church at Brooklyn, on a Sunday. The minister is becoming quite acrobatic in the pulpit, and his demonstrations result in everything except his standing on his head. He pleases the boys who think it nearly as good as a circus, and his large audiences clap their hands, stamp their feet, laugh and cheer, as if they were enjoying a sensational comedy. The manner in which Talmage's legs become excited, and in fact the acrobatic movement of his whole body, create an immense amount of fun. Talmage does not meddle the gospel, and the gospel not meddle with him; and now we are told that the Presbytery will try him again for lying and general misconduct, besides dancing in the pulpit. To preyent a trial and conviction, Mr. Talmage has half made up his mind to take his church and his congregation out of the Presbyterian denomination so that it will not have any power over him.

The new fluancial gospel-to take the greenbacks out of circulation-is meeting with decide lopp sition from many of the prominent public men including Garfield and Blaine. But there are a few who want to retire the whole greenback volume almost immediately, regardless of consequences. The Hon. Horace Rublee, ex Chairman of the Wisconsin Republican Committee, has written a letter to the Milwaukee Sentinel, in which he strongly endorses the President's recommendations to take the greenbacks out of circulation. He thinks to support Senator Carpenter's resolution to not meddle with with the currency will be a fatal blunder, but some of the wisest heads in this country against the position taken by Mr. Rublee. To be sure the time will come and probably shortly, when it will be wisdom to retire the greenbacks, but we think it will be ill-timed to begin now The better way is to let things adjust th m selves to resumption, not be too bold and hasty in the attempt to control the currency. The business of the country will not warrant the rettrement of the 346 millions of lega! tenders. The popular view in Washington as well as through the country, is to let the prosperity of business start to contract

There appears to be a dispute as to whether Wade Hampton has been invited by the Pitt-burg branch of the Grand Army of the Republic, to deliver an address before them. The question of "appropriateness" seems to be the point under discussion Well, very likely the Grand Army have invited Hampton, and more than likely Hampton will accept. We are living in strange times. There are amenities in politics as well as in Christianity, and here we have a case in point. Last year there belonged to the Presidential party which attended nearly all the fairs in the country, and which came to Wisconsin and was gladly received, a man who is United States Senator from South Carolina. Not very long ago-just was elected the Senate-he caused to be massacred in cold-blood and at mid-day, a number of innocent negroes. The massacre at Fort Pillow was hardly more inhuman than the Hamburg massacre rdered by M C. Butler. He went to the Senate with the blood of innocent persons dripping from his garments, and th s man-tae hero of the most diabolical murders ever committed in South Carolins-became in 1878, by special invitation, a member of the Presidential party, and made congratulatory and sen- question of ineligibility of Senators and his youth the other day. specimen of amenity on the part of a Respecimen of a publican administration which confounds obeyed. Benton, Kennebec County, is in- calmly away. When expostulated with for an intelligent world. If Massacre Butler could do that, Wade Hampton can do the

REPUBLICANISM IN WISCONSIN.

A dispatch from Madison says the recent election in this State was remarkable in many things, and among them is the fact that the Republicans carried all of the Congressional Districts except the Fifth, and lost that by 2,566 votes, when it usually gives ready in regard to the charges preferred just nailed him at the first opportunity from 5,000 to 6,000 majority. Gubernatorial candidate, ever received so large a majority as did Governor Smith at the last election. There is a significance in this fact which does honor to the party and which astonishes the Democracy. The 25,099 majority which the Governor received speaks volumes for the party and 21,776 over 1877, while the Democrats gained only 4,550.

These results, and the facts that the Republicans are strongly united and the Democrats disorganized and discouraged, point to an overwhelming victory next year. It is predicted that there will be a gain of two Congressmen for the Republicans, and possibly three, making a complete sweep of the State on Congressmen. However ill-timed these predictions may seem to some, the fact remains that in the brilliant history of the Republican party of this State, the party was never stronger, never more hopeful, never more thoroughly organized than at present. This much may be safely predicted that in the mighty struggle of 1880, when the issue will be between a solid South as against the North, there will be no State in the Great North which will respond to the sentiments of the Republican party, more nobly than Wisconsin.

HAMPTON.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12-General Mart Gary, People's candidate for Governor of South Carolina, tells a Herald correspondent that Wade Hampton proposed to him, in 1876, to withdraw the Tilden Electors of South Carolina, and to surrender the State to Hayes in order to secure Hampton's election. He says the State would be solid for Tilden now.

A LONG NAP.

Susie Godsey's Sleep of More Than Twenty Years.

For more than twenty years the extraordinary case of Susan S. Godsey, better USE U known as the "Sleeping Beauty," has puzzled the most eminent physicians of this country and Europe. She was born in Obion county, Tennessee, just across the State line, and about six miles from Hickman, Kentucky Her parents were extremely poor and lived in a small log house containing only one room. Until eight years of age the girl was strong and healthy, and seemed in nowise remarkable.
At that age, however, she was stricken with fever, but was attended by an experienced physician, who soon checked the disease The girl sunk into a slumber finally awoke weak, but well. To the sur prise of the family and physician she re-mained awake but a few minutes, when she again went to sleep. From that time torward, a period of more than 21 years. she has never been awake more than three minutes at a time. The lethcertain number of hours. awakes at 6 o'clock in the morning and at 3 o'clock and 8 o'clock each night, never varying one-half minute from the regular time. She takes but very little pourishment, and that only twice in 24 hours. During the time in which she sleeps she does not appear to appear to breathe, and a mirror held against her nostrils remains untarnished Her breathing, it indeed she breathes at all, is not sufficient to stir the slightest down suspended against her nostrils by a silken thread. When her remarkable condition became known, physicians fl.cked from all parts of the country to see her. None were able satisfactorily to account for the phenomenon, although many theories were advanced. The true cause has never to this day been de ermined, although the woman may still be alternately sleeping and waking with the regularity of clock work. One physician who visited her continually for 16 years, frankly confessed that he could form no oplaion regarding the cause.

She is described as rather under medium size, and with the exception that she is sometimes troubled when awake with neuralgic pains in her head and neck, and that one arm is slightly paralyzed, enjoys as far as she can enjoy anything, good nealth. One remarkable feature of the case is, that while her hair has grown to a great length her finger pails have not grown any since she was first stricken. Far from anything repugnant in her appearance, even while animation is suspended, she would be considered a very pretty lady by those ucacquainted with but has not been awake enough since then to learn anything more. She knows her relatives and friends, and converses with them in her conscious moments. Before talling asleep a slight hiccough or choking sound proceeds apparently from her throat. She then so quickly becomes in-

THE PLEDGE OF HONOR

In the Sunday School Work, How Can We Use It?-A Paper Bead by B. S. Hoxie, of Cooksville, at the Semi-Annual Convention, Held in Evansville, August 19th and 20th.

All religious organizations have for their fundamental-object the formation or building up of character; and as now the Sunday school in all christian lands is acknowledged to be the primary workshop in the great field, and the nursery of the church, from which to gather its future workers, so the question of the how, the only and the what of the work, demands the attention of the workers. If our building is on a sandy foundation, the parable illustrates to us that when the storms and winds come, the edifice must fall to the ground These propositions being correct, we must inquire in what way can be strengthen the edifice, to make its walls sure; and so this question is very pertinent to the times, and in considering it, I am led to inquire, what better place can we find than in the Sunday | is great sin," and he who can'command his school room to speak of life's duties as well as of its possibilities; the snares and pitfalls, as well as its hopes and attain- and that great Persian law-giver Zoroa tor,

Many a mother, as her son was about to leave the paternal home, has pointed out the dangers of life to him in a more fitting manner than at any other time, and he has given her a sacred pledge to abstain from wine and evil companions. Many a mother, too, as she has left her boy an orphan has exacted the same promise. The recollection of the mother's pleading voice, her every look and manner, are a reminder to him when the tempter comes and he is strengthened by the promise given a temperance society, whose pledge of total abstinance is for life, I never knew of but one instance in twenty years where the candidate objected to take such a pledge when the constitutional questions were asked in the ante room. He was perfectly willing to take such a pledge while he continued with this Lodge, but he dare not make such a promise for life. I could but honor him for his decision as he left the ante room without taking an ob-ligation which he knew so many had broken. I mention this as only one instance as illustrative of the fact that obligations are taken on and put off again so easily. What can be more binding than a pledge voluntarily given in the presence of witnesses and high heaven, and yet how many realize its importance. We should in some way impress upon the mind of every child, every boy and girl, who enters the Sabbath school room that promises made are pledges given and when given without any reservation must be kept inviolate.

St. Paul says "Ye cannot escape if ye neglect so great salvation." I think if we fully understand this principle we should not see so many every day of our lives who expect in some way to shift this responsibility or that somebody else may suffer for our misdeeds. We of rural homes and early training from parents whom we honor in our lives, know nothing comparatively of the temptations and besettings which lie in the path of the young in towns and cities. Take a look if you please into that nicely furnished billiard room, with freecoed ceilings and rich paintings—the click of the bails on a dezen tables per-haps, gas lights turning night into day; he costly bar and tempting wine glass, and often music which entrances the soul. Contrast this with the too often cheerless home of the business man, and thoughtless mothers, and the wonder is that more do not fall into the snare of the tempter, and be engulfed in this maelstrom of destruc-

This is no tancy picture; but a scene of every night's occurrance in our citles. The game of billiards of itself, perhaps, may not be wrong, but it is the surroundings and the associates that so degrade. It is sometimes said that we must take things as we find them, but is that any reason why they must always remain so? It is our duty as christian workers in the Sunday It, as we are sometimes told, with all our more pressing, what can we do to best promote the temperance work among the young? I do not know as it becomes me to say a word in reference to our past seven years' work of study of the international the best; but when everything is so nicely planned for the whole hour, even to the number of the taps on the bell, that there is no time to even mention anything out of their regular routine, I almost despair of any reformation in this direction. It is all well enough to have a full six-months course about the prophets for mature minds, but the practical things of real life, as Christ taught them, and as we flod them, are te me of far more importance, and these verities of life are what we are to grapple with after all, sp if to be well versed in all ancient prophecies are among the best gifts we may need a Paul to show us a more excellent way.

The prominent thought now in the tem-perance work seems to be that the best way to promote temperance is to prevent ceased appetites.

Rev. Edward Rand in a late number of the Sunday School Times says: "We must take temperance right into the Sunday school; and further on he says: "Let us think the matter over, think how many West Milwaukee St., two doors schools there are, where the subject is only gingerly noticed; how many superintend-ents and teachers there are who so belittle the subject as to reduce it to pin-head size." Such Superintendents and teachers should study the "Horan" and learn total abstinence from Mohammed, for whatever we may think of the, man we must give him credit at least of inculcating one vir-tue and giving a pledge of honor with such unction that it is adhered to by milhous of his followers until this day. He says too that in "wine and gambling there own soul is the bravest of the brave, and that a man's wealth hereafter is the good he does to his fellow men in this world gives a good maxim which is to "Keep pure in mind and body; and thus prevent | COR. Talk of this matter "gingerly" do they, I tell you my friends we must put temper-ance right in next to godliness every time, and when we reason of righteousness let us do do as Paul did, reason of temperance and Tooth Brushes, dressing have done to our fellow mortals.

If we could by precept and example teach and enforce the fact that without fine Bath and Toilet Soaps, invirtue all honor is but a passing cloud, then we shall have gone a great way toward the millenium.

ANSON GRAY.

Aason Grey was a still, stern man at thirty, shut up within himself and by himself, in his great stone massion on the hill, and people knew no more about him than they knew about the dead. His early years had been passed abroad, where, or how, nobody knew and most had ceased to care, for that matter; the last two had been passed in Burlingame. passed in Burlingame.

A brilliant light at night, shining from the great east windows, and occasional gallops through the town, by day, were the only tokens of his presence. However a change was coming and that without warning. Anson Grey fell sick, suddenly and dangerously so. The village doctor was summoned, who in turn telegraphed for another from the neighboring city in hot haste, and together, they said in whispers, that their patient would probably die. There was no woman in the great house to act as nurse, and the head servant, obeying doubtless his master's orders, refused to allow one there as

How it came about was a mystery, but one morning, when the master had laid a week half senseless, an unusual cloud of dust was observed whirling up the hill, "my lady," as they called her, was mistress and emerging therefrom was a carriage, splashed and weather-stained, headed by two straining, panting horses, who came up to the entrance as if driven by the evil one. A lady, tall and fair as sunlight, pushed open the carriage door impatiently and sprang out. With a hasty glance around she hurried up the steps, entered the drawing-room and stood before the two astonished gentlemen who were seated

"Is Anson Grey alive?"
"Yes, but he grows worse."

Before they divined her intention, she had passed them, and was in the next room bending over the sick man.

"The devil will be to pay it she excites him now," the elder one said, "If some good nurse ha! come it might have been of some use; tat this dainty thing-bah!" She came out in a moment, her face white but determined. "Will you be kind enough to send for a minister and remain until he comes ?" she asked, as she began to remove her things. There was something in her manner that forbade questioning, and they obeyed her like so many dumb men, as they said after-

The minister did come; William Skinner, the head servant was called, and after the three held a private conference, which seemed to be satisfactory, they came out, and to the amszement of all, the lady stood beside Anson Grey and the marriage

"I believe you had better return now, and leave it to me," he said.
"No, we are almost there. I should never forgive myself if I did," she answered, catching her breath as she spoke. "It is only you I am worried about." "I am diad to be able to help you," he said. And think he spoke the truth.

Inside the cottage poor Grace Pooley lay on her hard bed trying to breathe a little longer, if so the good God might send some good friends before she died, to care for

When the door opened her eyes bright-ened, and she raised up a little. "The Lord bless ye for coming. I know He will," she said as Edith threw off her wet covering and went toward her. "This is only one of the boarders who came with me," she and in reply to the woman's questioning look. "I should have come to-day had I known that you were Among the words which he could distinguish was a promise to see to Jamie ; and when the old woman who seemed to be nurse came up to administer something, and in a half whisper asked Edith to pray with them, he began to think he was in another werld. And it was another to him But she did. Kneeling upon the bare floor, clasping her white hands, she sent up such a prayer for help and strength as before. After that night Anson Grey knew where his heart was, but for his life he dared not approach Edith. She seemed ap mmeasurable distance from such as he, but he cherished the memory of her prayers as the one glimpse into heaven for which he should thank God all his life. Edith's mother was a gay woman, and such she meant her daughter to be, though for her life she could not keep her from

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen—I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit Sanford's Radical Cure has been to me. For ten years I have been afflicted with this loathsome disease, and especially in the winter time has it been most severe. The discharge has been thick and bloody, emitting a foul odor so bad that my presence in a room with others was very offensive to them. One week after commencing the use of Sanford's Radical Cure I was not troubled with it at all. Mysensec of taste and smell, which were wordly gone, have now fully returned, and my general health is much improved. Yours,

MELBOURNE H. FORD.

Short-Hand Writer.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 3, 1876.

LATER. Gentlemen: The package of SANFORD'S CURR arrived hereto-night all right. I don't know what I should have done if it had not been for this remedy. I have tried Nasal Douches and everything else, and although I have been able to stop the offensive dis-charge, I have not been able to recover my senses of taste and smell until I tried SANFORD'S CURR. You can refer any one you choose to me, and I will cheerfully inform them in detail as to the beneat the remedy has been to me. Yours, MELBOURNE H. FORD.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 15, 1878.

7:30 p. m., sharp, at the rooms in Jackman & Smith's block. Important business vet amusing, attend the Guards reception to-night. They start off with a grand military march. The Guards will take the floor with the ladies and conduct them through different military maneuvers, under command of Captain Smith. This will be immediately followed by a waltz, when all join in. Refreshments are to be served continually in the hall way, on the European plan. The programme of dances is worthy of more than a passing notice. We predict a crowded floor to-night. One good idea we notice, and that is the early hour of commencing-being 8:30.

-While hunting around for holiday gitts there is one place, above all others that should not be forgotten or over loo'red, and that is Britton & Kimball's furr itur : store. It's so handy to the postoffice theton : can drop in there while walting for the mail, but a few minutes won't suffice to get a g. imp at more than a tithe of their large stock As will be seen by their advertisement in another column, they have put in many new goods, and have a large a sortment of useful and beautiful things to choose from. They certainly have some most elegant furniture, and in great yarlety, besides a full line of every day substantial goods, new styles. It's a good place to go. Don't you lorget it.

-The Wisconsin Teacher's Association is to meet in Madison Dec. 29th for a three days session. We notice among the names on the programme that of Prof. R. W. Burton, who is to speak on the question, "Should the High School be organized as supplementary to the common school, or lege?" Superintendent W. C. Whitford, Prof. W. D. Parker, and Prof. De Motte, are also among those who are to participate in the meeting. The programme embraces a variety of topics of practical worth to teachers and others interrested in educational matters. A SAD FALL.

One of Janesville's Well Know Young Men in Trouble in Chicago.

He is Locked Up in Jail For Perjury, and is Suspected of Burglary and Even Murder.

Whisky the Cause.

A sensation was caused in a Justice Court in Chicago vesterday, the chief cause of which was the arrest of Fred. W. Holden, a young man who has lived in this city much of the time since his boyhood, the by-gone been very dissipated, and -Several scenes from the Merchant of went nigh to the bottom, but old friends rallied about him, inspired him with new ambition to be a man, and gave money work, influence, everything to encourage -A special meeting of the Forrester him to make something of himself. He did forsake the cup, and for over two at 1 o'clock p. m. at 10 degrees above. years past had not touched, tasted or handled. He won back respect for himself, -If you want to see something fine, and and the respect of others, and having shown by his straightforwardness and manliness that he was entitled to confidence friends sought to get him a position of trust in Chicago, and gaye him letters of tatroduction and recommendation with which he went to Chicago at the time of the Knights of Pythias excursion lest August. He secured almost immediately the promise of a position in the Western News Company, and was to enter upon his duties the next day, but before twenty-four hours he had yielded to his appetite, and when he went to his new position, he was in such a maudlin state of intoxication, that he ruined all his prospects, and the promised position was given to another. Since then he has gone rapidly down, if the reports that come to us are true. It is said that he had got reduced - to ten cent lodging places, and free lunches, and had lost all that his two years of manful struggle had gained for him. In this deplorable condition he has fallen among thieves, and they have now robbed him of his good name. Yesterday he went into the witness box to testify in the case of two saloen men who were being examined on the charge of receiving stolen property, and of burglary. One of the victims of a recent burg have a great many special novelties, and lary identified young Holden as one of the on examination held for trial. It is suspected that he is one of the gang who on the early morning of November 13th, plundered a half dozen houses, shooting at several parties, and winding up by robbing Hensley's house, and murdering him. Three men have already been arrested, and it is charged that Holden was the fourth. as preparatory to the university or col- This he denies in full, and those who have known him here for so many years will be slow to believe that he would be guilty of such a crime, for he has shown an honesty in business matters, and a straightforwardness while living here, despite his other faults. Those who have taken such interest in his reform, and have so generously helped him, will be saddened at his suddea fall, and the trouble in which he is placed

> On being searched in jail $100 was found on his person, which seems strange, considering the reports that have reached here concerning his poverty. The Inter Ocean reporter interviewed him, and Holden told him that he was a stranger in Chicago, recently from Racine, but had also been in Janesville. He had no home, no friends he could refer to, no baggage, sleeping place, no place of employment.

The following concerning the case, taken from the Chicago Times will be read with sad interest:

The case of the Haberkorns was called before Justice Walsh on yesterday, and Joseph taking a change of venue to Justice Morrison, Lothair was left alone in the police court to answer to the charge of burglary. Mr L H Crumb, Lieut. Bonfleid, and Detectives Shea and Keating testified for the city, while Col. Cameron kept a egal eye on the proceedings for them; and othair, with one witness named Fred W Holden, and Gus Van Buren es counsel, was called upon to defend. Mr Crumb testified as to the manner in which he discovered the burglars, how the house was entered, and to the quantity and value of the stolen property at Haberkorn's place and produced a watch which they found there, which was unhesitatingly indenti-fled by Mr Crumb. When Fred W Holden was placed upon the stand to tell how a certain man, having run up a pool-bill one Sunday morning, turned the watch over to the Haberkorns | the usual gaiety of the ladies' dress, gave standing next to Detective Keating whispered excitedly. "By G-d! that is one of the men who was in my house; he is the identical man who forced me into my room with a retestifying." "But he's one of the men."

"Never mind; keep still." Crumb being partially quieted down, and Holden having finished his testimony. Haberkorn was put on the stand, and Holien started to leave. "Say, Keating, said Mr.] Crumb, "that chap's going to leave."

"I know he is; but he'll be back soon few minutes later by Detective Shea, who and even Consumption if used in time, by who have a more permanent and more had been quietly informed of the state of prosperous business than he. The stock prosperous business than he. The stock affairs by Detective Keating, and who had of the Throat and Lungs. It accomplishes s quietly had Clerk Bluhm issue a warrant. He was placed in the bull-pen, and afterward, when Haberkorn's case was late himself, and to be congratulated by finished, and he had been held to the criminal court in $1,000 bonds he was brought forward.

Mr. Crumb was put on the stand and testified that on the night his house was entered he was awakened by hearing a noise in an adjoining room. Jumping from his bed he ran into the hallway on the second of floor, where the gas was burned well up, the last one turned and, thrusting a cocked pistol in his face, ordered him back to his youd a doubt the prisoner because, having a good memory for faces, and, Holden's erkon was meanwhile arrested on a charge | simply hearing the cough of another per-over to Dec. 16, in $1,000 bail. Holden, wno was seen later in the evening by a Times reporter, made a clean breast of his connection with the matter of testimony for the Haberkorns. He met Pens, Ink, &c., at reasonable prices, call at Suth- I dition, 28@32c. Dingy, heavy and damaged lots them, he said, some two days ago, and Joe erland's Bookstore.

Haberkorn told him that he had got into a little trouble, and that a little testimony from an outside party like him would do an immense amount of good. The story of the man with the pooibill who turned over the watch as security was then cooked up, and Holden was then given fifty cents, with the promise that the "right thing" would be done by him for his trouble. Holden was afterward introduced to a man named Brown, and Brown and he fixed up their story between them, to the effect that both were to testify to the same thing. On this day Holden received $1. Later on he received fifty cents. and at another time twenty-five cents, making a total of $2.25 that he received tor testifying as he did. He denies any complicity in the Crumb burglary, and claims to have known the Haberkorns but about ten days or so, and that he was then introduced to them by a meat-peddler named Smith and another man whose name he does not know. He stated his willingness to tell all he knows, without any reserve, when the proper time arrives.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS The thermometer at 6 o'clock last evening stood at 12 degrees above zero; at 1 o'clock a. m. to-day at 6 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m. at 4 degrees below, and Clear.

The indications to-day are, for the lake region, higher pressure, westerly winds and colder, partly cloudy weather, followed ter and variable winds.

A BRILLIANT DISPLAY.

We are dizzy-paralyzed, as the boys say -for we've just taken a look at some of Webb & Hall's goods. We thought there was enough in the show cases to dazzle the eyes and awaken the covetousness of any ordinary or even extraordinary mortal, but when they commenced bringing tray after tray out of that big vault of theirs, and showed the silver and gold and precious stones, for which they can find no room elsewhere, we gave up, and told them we couldn't do the subject justice. In expectation of their just share of the holiday trade, they have increased their stock of jewelry, silver ware, and beautiful novelties, until the array is as brillian! a one, as any man short of a millionaire wants to gaze on. Why, they put out twenty-three trays of elegant rings with just as indifferent an air, as though they eon. had been match boxes. They said they were selling them now by the acre, and we believe it. Then there are watches and chains, charms and pins, earrings and sleeve buttons, in every yariety of design. In silver ware there is no end to the beauties and noyelties. While carrying a fuller stock of the ordinary goods than ever, they have made a large increase in the amount and variety of the rich, elegant good, solid ware and latest styles. It's honestly a sight worth seeing, and anyone who cannot, out of their present stock, select a holiday gift to suit them both in style and price, ought to be invited to transport himself to some place where Christmas and New Years are unknown. It don't cost a cent to look at the display, and it is well worth one's while to drop into their store.

A FARMER living near Kirkwood, Mo., Mr. George Schwager, reports that ST. JACOBS OIL has been used with great benefit in his neighborhood.

ON WITH THE DANCE.

Last evening there was a joyous gathering at Apollo hall on the occasion of the twenty-sixth annual ball given by Water Witch Engine Company No. 2. The hall was becomingly decorated, and presented very attractive appearance. In the center of the wall, facing the doorway, was a large portrait of William Kemp, graced by the folds of the prize banner won in different trials by the company, while on either side were "Scenes in the Life of a Fireman," six in number, and two handsomely framed groups of the company and the old engine house, views of the different steam engines manufactured, and a few o her handsome pictures. The centre of the ceiling of the hall was festooned with flags, and from between the folds hung the silver trumpet, which was won by the company as a prize in one of their trials. On the wall above where the orchestra took their position, were play pipes crossed in a neat design, and these with various minor ornamentations rendered the appearance of the hall fully in keeping with the

The attendance was very large, and the sprinkling of unitorms aworn by members of the various companies, added to in payment thereof, Mr Crumb, who was the gathering a brilliant appearance, and when the dance was at its full height the scene presented was one tof joyousness. Harry Anderson's orchestra furnished the music, and the merry whirl, and jolly good time was kept up until near the morning hours. All seemed to enjoy it heartily, and the occasion will be jotted down in memory, as one of those meriting the white mark.

The PERUVIAN SYRUP, which is now so popular, deserves its renown, because it has proved itself to be indispensable to all invalids. There is nothing like it to bring up the weakened po wers of a man. The stomach, which is compared to the "citadel," is at once acted upon by it, Its powers are renewed, its work of digestion is promoted, and all the blessings resulting therefrom are supplied by its use. Food is assimilated to the system, and it, in turn, is strengthened to do its normal work, The business man whose energies have been run down by over close attens tion to business; the professional man suffering from the same cause; the seeker after pleasure who has made too heavy drafts upon his stock of health, are all benefited by its use. In a word the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP is recommended to all who feel the approach of lassitude and weakness from whatever cause. Every druggist keeps it. BROWN'S HOTEL, MACON, GA, Sept. 21, 1879. Messrs. Morgan & Allen, 59 John St, New York

Dear Sire-In looking over Harper's Weekly paper I saw the advertisement of your valuable to me that it was my duty to add to your list of testimonials. For twelve months I suffered with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder; no rest at night, up ten or fifteen times; could not walk across the street without having palpitation of the heart, would have to sit down and rest before I could get back to the hotel. Last May I was obliged to give up my business, that of hotel keeper. I was reduced in weight forty pounds. In August I made the trip by steamer to New York, thence by steamer to New London, Connec ticut, where I arrived weak and very much debilitated. My brother, J F Brown, President of Brown's Cotton Gin Company at New London, sent to the druggists for a bottle of "Constitution Water," and insisted on my taking it, saying that he, and others he knew, had been troubled in the same way. It seems incredible, but in two days I began to feel better, my appetite improving, and in a few days was able to walk up to the town, some half mile distant, without getting wearled. or having any fluttering or palpitation of the heart. In a short time I returned to New York (visited Coney Island, of course,) and waiked from the Wooden Pier to the Iron Pier, a distance I should judge of nearly one mile, through the sand; also a long distance through Central Park without any inconvenience or distress. I am sixty years of age, have lived in Macon fifty-four years, been in the hotel business twenty-five years, and those that know me know that I would not give this testimonfal unless it was due you and to those suffering as I have suffered. Diseases similar to mine and other diseases your medicine is recommended for are very prevalent
